Arrives Today WC Journal

Dora Jean Johnson, editor of The Journal, announces that a third edition of the literary publication will be distributed today or tomorrow.

Included in this issue is an article on Arthur Tootland in the music department and one on Toulouse-Lautrec in the art department.

The literary department features reviews of late novels, "Take A Title," a literary game, also described.

Three fictions compose the group of student writings in this issue. Titles are "A Young Swan," "Unleash His Own," and "Through a Brief Darkness."

Dora Jean also announces that this year's last edition will feature freshman writings by Jody Mayer, Jackie Langford, and other members of the Class of '36. Prize-winning poems and other entries in the current poetry contest will also be printed. Art work will be done by Laura Sofomons.

'Chalk Garden' Cast Rehearses for Year's Finale

Winthrop Theatre's final major production for this year, "The Chalk Garden" by Enid Bagnold, has been cast and rehearsals are in progress.

The play will be presented April 30 through May 2.

The cast includes Carolyn Calmes as Madeline, Betty Sanders as Laurel, Kathryn Jarrett as Mrs. St. Maugham, and Paul Lovell as Olivia.

Also in the cast are Helena Ridgeway as the nurse, Miss Harrison as the second applicant, Shiley Wingfield as the third applicant, Dr. S. J. McCoy as Maitland, and Dr. J. S. Ellis, Jr., as the judge.

Directing this production is Mr. Donald R. Treat, member of the Dramatic Arts Department faculty. Mary Sue Timmons is stage manager, and Pat Napier is in charge of the lighting.

Members of the South Carolina High School Drama division of the Palmetto Dramatics Association arrived on campus yesterday for a three day program. Approximately 150 students and teachers are attending.

The statewide drama association is sponsored by Winthrop College and the South Carolina High School League. William I. Long, head of the Dramatics Department, is directing the festival.

Yesterday's program included registration and supper in the college dining hall. A repeat performance of last week's bill of four original one-act plays was presented last night by the Winthrop Theatre.

Demonstrations of stage techniques, exhibits, and one-act plays by the high schools are scheduled for today. Schools giving plays of both original and professional nature are Spartanburg and Hartsville, two plays each, Allendale-Fairfax, Batesburg-Leesville, Myrtle Beach and Winthrop Training School, one play each.

Tomorrow's program includes demonstrations in informal drama, chorus speech presentation, slide illustrations of scenery, lighting and costumes, and discussions of painting techniques and puppetry.

Mitchell And Garvin Write Best Poems

Seniors Kitty Mitchell and Mary Ann Garvin are this year's winners in the annual poetry contest sponsored by the Journal, Winthrop literary magazine.

Kitty won the first prize of $10. She is an English major from Greenville. Her winning poem is "The Crow's Feet." Mary Ann's winning poem is "Ginkgo." She received the second-place prize of $5.

Judging the contest were Mrs. H. A. Scott, Jr., wife of the head of the Psychology Department, Mrs. Winifred S. Hahn, wife of the head of the Mathematics Department, and Mrs. John A. Freeman, wife of a member of the Biology Department faculty.

Biologists Tour Bears' Bluff

Eighteen biology students made a field trip to Bears' Bluff Laboratory on Wadmalaw Islands, 25 miles from Charleston, last Friday.

The students worked in some fresh and some salt ponds examining specimens. They also explored life in the mudflats.

All students went on a boat trip Saturday. Animals were caught, brought back, and studied in the laboratories. A. R. Luan is director of the laboratory.

Sunday morning the girls left for Rock Hill. On the trip back they stopped at Cypress Gardens for a tour.

Biology students who went to Bears' Bluff are Mrs. Elizabeth Burke, Esme Mae Eller, Ann High, Dora Lawton, Nancy Stone, Gwynne Miller Parker, and Frances Rogers.

Also Carrie Bennett, Patty Burgess, Patsy Champion, Nancy Hull, Marlin Dillard, Alice Murphy, Becky Messabeau, Nancy Braselton, Willy Jean Lindsey, Molly Partridge, and Kirby Smith.

Miss Isabel Potter and Miss Margaret New of the Biology Department accompanied the girls.

Miss Clotworthy Will Be USC Dean

Miss Elizabeth Clotworthy, 1930 Winthrop graduate, will become Dean of Women at the University of South Carolina June 1. Miss Clotworthy was named at the resignation of Mrs. Arney Childs as dean.

A native of Charleston, Miss Clotworthy is now Director of Guidance Services with the South Carolina Department of Education. She is a reserve officer in the United States Women's Marine Corps.

During her senior year at Winthrop, Miss Clotworthy was class cheerleader, secretary of the athletic association, and business manager of The Johnstorian. She was very active in athletic events on campus.

Music Fest Begins Wed.

Some five thousand high school musicians will attend the largest state music festival in the history of the annual event beginning Wednesday at Winthrop.

Dr. Walter B. Roberts, head of the Music Department, is in charge of the festival. Leading through Friday, the event is a contest for raling between bands, orchestras, choral groups and soloists, both instrumental and vocal.

Judging the concert bands will be Dr. Mark Hindley of the University of Illinois. Marching units are rated this year by Dr. Manly R. Whitcomb of Florida State University. Roger L. Danz of the University of Georgia will judge the sight-reading bands.

Columbia University's Dr. Robert Pace will rate the piano entries and George Krueger of the University of Indiana is the choral group's judge.

District preliminary festivals determine these groups or individuals who will enter the state festival competition. Only those receiving a rating of "2" or above in the district meetings are eligible for the state festival.

The conservatory, the College Auditorium, and the Athletic Field will be the scene of festival activity. The Association of Childhood Education is making plans for the operation of concession stands during the event.

The purpose of the music festival is to encourage a deeper interest in music among those who participate in musical activities in their high schools.

Freshmen Plan to Honor Sister Class

The Freshman Class will give a party to honor their sister class Tuesday night, in the gymnasium from 6:30 until 7:30.

The juniors will be entertained with several skills planned by Ann Dickert, Nora Garges, and Laura Bonds. Following the entertainment, refreshments will be served.

Special guests will be Dean Warren Taylor and Residence Hall Counselors from Freshman and Junior residence halls.

Committee plans are headed by the following, Harriet Dantzer, refreshments; Betty King, decorations; Patricia Poole, cleanup; and Sally Ann Sapp, publicity.

Dr. Roberts Brought 'Big Time' Music To Winthrop

As head of one of the largest departments at Winthrop College since 1925, Dr. Walter Buchanan Roberts has had the opportunity of knowing many students through the years.

Among the finest achievements of Dr. Roberts is the founding in 1927 of the South Carolina State Music Festival for high school students, which he still directs.

In the spring of 1928 Dr. David Bancroft Johnson, founder and first president of Winthrop, sent Dr. Roberts to Greensboro, N. C. to observe the festival.

With Dr. Johnson's enthusiastic support, Winthrop sponsored a small festival in 1927 with area high schools participating. In the years since the festival has grown from 350 to over 5,000 participants.

The program itself has also been expanded to include two parts: workshops or clinics for pianists and singers in the fall and for band members in January and the festival itself in the spring. These students, outstanding ones in their field, serve for both events.

Before Dr. Roberts came, the

McCoy Attends Duke Meeting

Dr. S. J. McCoy, academic dean, attended a meeting of the selection committee of the North and South Carolina region of the Southern Fellowship Fund Tuesday at Duke University.

The meeting was held for the purpose of making recommendations of summer grants to people actively engaged in college teaching.

The Southern Fellowship Fund is a division of the Southern Universities Council, which was organized to help college teachers financially in pursuing advanced study toward a doctor's degree and post-doctoral teachers in conducting research.

The stipend is usually from $300 to $700. The money is donated to the Council by the General Education Board.

The International Student Fund will benefit next week when seven girls representing each of the dormitories on campus and the Town Girls Association will vie for the title of "Miss Winthrop."

The entries elected by the dorm residents are Janice Allen of Crescent Beach for Marquette Nance, Mary Adams of Chastler for Bancroft, Bettina Finkenau of Charlotte, N. C. for Breazeale, Willie Jo Furmer of Mount Pleasant for Trinity, Martha Sadler of Anderson for Phelps, Ann Dukes of Augusta, Ga. for McJannet, and Sue Denton of Rock Hill for TGA.

The "Miss Winthrop" contest will be introduced in assembly Tuesday. Polls for penny voting will be open in the post office from Tuesday afternoon until Friday afternoon at 5:45.

The contestant having the most penny votes when the polls close will be the winner. She will be crowned in assembly April 16 and will represent Winthrop officially in parades, festivals, and other such events.

The "Miss Winthrop" contest is sponsored each year by the Winthrop Christian Association to raise money for its International Student Fund. Barbara Jeter is this year's contest chairman.

Girls Run For Newman Posts

Members of the Newman Club are attending the Southeastern Providence Convention in Columbia this weekend. Winthrop students Dennis Cavanaugh and Debra Cavanaugh are running for providence officers.

Marciana Vivado and Donna Cavanaugh are Winthrop's voting delegates. Other representatives are Peggy Moody, Peggy Scriver, Rose Marie Conroy, and Martha Reed.

Convention plans include a social today after registration, meeting tomorrow, and Mass Sunday.

The Winthrop Music Club sponsored a supper Monday night to raise funds for the Music Scholarship.

Entertainment was furnished by the music faculty. The Swanks played during dinner, which was prepared by music club members.

Informality Is Leading Rule Of WRA Ball

Highlights of the WRA's Street Dance tomorrow night will be its outdoor setting and music by a Negro combo. Beginning at 8:00 in front of the College Auditorium and in the lobby, the dance will be over at 11:45.

The Hearts are from Lancaster and were formerly with The Glediolos. They are planning a record release and admission to the Street Dance will be $1.00 for couples and $75 for tags. Tickets will be on sale in the post office this afternoon and tomorrow morning, in the dorms tomorrow afternoon, and at the dance tomorrow night.

Dress for the dance will be informal, casual street clothes. Tables and chairs will be set up on the lawn. Refreshments will be available in the lobby of the auditorium.

Students from 13 men's schools have been invited to attend the dance.

Marcia Halls, WRA dance chairman, has announced the committee working on the arrangements for the Street Dance. Mary Lou Bryan is in charge of invitations. Millie Martin is directing decorations and Beverly Ann Derrick is supervising food and concession stands.

"Bo Peep" Jenkins is handling publicity and B. J. Arnold is in charge of ticket sales. Betty Hull is chairman of the clean-up committee.

Members of the clean-up committee are Peggy McCall, Kitten Proctor, Alice Guy, Hilda Mison, Christine Fulk, Peggy Sue Price, Nan Inabnett, Ruth Mills, Ruth Wail, Cora Alice Bowling, Doris McKeekin, Claire Simpson, and Jo Ann Beck.

Becky Lybrand and Sammy Denton are helping with refreshments. On the ticket committee are Gloria Butler, Diane Vining, Sherry Chastain, and Leslie McCall.

Decorations committee members are Myrna Allen, Pat McCall, Alice Gooding, Phoebe Smokes, Peggy Burgin, Barbara Amick, Cecile Whistone, and Mary Jo All.

Members of the publicity committee are Ida Reamer, Mickey Taylor, Mona Camp, Bessie Banks, B. J. Arnold, Jo Ann Beck, Laura Solomons, Penny Anderson, Vernelle Stone, Ramelle Wolfe, Cynthia Jackson, Lou Usery, Diane Vining, and Nan Inabnett.

Dr. Walter B. Roberts, head of the Music Department, began the annual Music Festival in 1927. Dr. Roberts has been at Winthrop since 1925.

Seniors Win Play Day

Seniors took top honors by winning three first places in the WRA sponsored Play Day.

The seniors took top honors in tennis, swimming, and volleyball. They came in second in bridge and third in table tennis.

Sophomores took first places in tennis and bridge, and four third places in softball, swimming, volleyball, and table tennis.

First places in softball was won by the juniors, who took three second places in swimming, volleyball, and table tennis.

The freshmen took first place in songs, two second places in tennis and bridge, and four third places in softball, swimming, volleyball, and table tennis.

Two points were given for first place, five points for second place, and three points for third place.

By this system seniors had a total of 38 points, freshmen 32 points, sophomores 30 points, and juniors 26 points.

Volleyball was a feature at Play Day sponsored by WRA last week with the Seniors coming out overall champs in the class competition. A Junior class team is shown attempting to volley in their match against the Freshman.

Three Seniors Join Pi Delta Phi Club

French students Dee Blasigama, Vivian Holliday, and Betty Dunlap were initiated last week into Pi Delta Phi, national honorary French fraternity.

The seniors met the membership requirements of an overall 3.0 average and a 3.5 average on French. Other students in the Winthrop chapter are Sandra Platt, president, Marcia Hall, vice-president, and Ann Hendrix, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Dennis Martin, Dr. Francis Jacob, and Dr. Lucille K. Delano of the Modern Languages Department attended the initiation meeting. A social hour followed the ceremony in Johnson Hall.

Omicron Taps Seven Initiates

Seven Winthrop home economics students will be initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, this afternoon at 5:30.

These seven students are June Spires, Janie Gibson, Ruth Jones, Mary Ann Lanham, Carolyn Watkins, Glory Embler, and Suzanne McPherson.

A buffet supper will be served in honor of the initiates after the initiation service.

Winthrop Gives SCEA Meet Booth

Winthrop Seniors Virginia Lightner, Harriet Floyd, and Joyce Rogers represented Winthrop in the school's exhibit booth at the statewide teachers' meeting in Columbia last week.

Miss Clara Cornwell of the registrar's office and Dr. Harold Gilbreth of the Commerce Department supervised the booth.

Winthrop summer school bulletins, brochures, and other material were distributed from the booth. Alumnae and Winthrop friends were also asked to sign the register at the booth.

Modern Dancers Will Appear Before Rock Hill Groups

8 WC Students Present Dance History At Meet

South Carolina.

In the early thirties in Columbia, in an old church building which was once a Jewish synagogue, and then a Negro night club, a group shared to devise the Big Apple, formed from the Charleston and the mountain Southern Circle dance.

There are two theories as to the source of the name Big Apple. One is that from the snack bar someone accidentally let fall a big red apple and it rolled across the floor into the circle of dancers. The other is that suddenly one of the dancers called "Circle up in that Big Apple." Now, however, the dance is known as Shag.

Asa Lou Johnson Fain and Lynn Rank, Winthrop alumnae and dance instructors in Greenville and Columbia, respectively, performed with their dance groups during the Wednesday night demonstrations.

Miss Julia Post, head of the Physical Education Department, accompanied the group.

Slip Of Wrist Draws 'Em In

By ANNE RAGSDALE

Need a man around the dorm? A Beasdale student has found the answer to this problem.

As she casually leaned against her dorm office's wall, talking to the women at the desk about, "Wonder what would happen if my hand slipped," the invisible happened... it did.

The little red box was lacking a glass front, and its urgent message traveled along the black wires to the Rock Hill Fire Department and to several vital spots on campus.

Result: a tremendous thrill

Members of the performing group under the direction of Mrs. Alice Hayden Salo of the Physical Education Department faculty, will give three performances next week for various organizations in York county.

The group will appear Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. before the Outlook Club, a Rock Hill literary club. At that time the group will give an interpretation through dance of the problems and conditions in the life of Eugene O'Neill, the famous American playwright.

First, each girl will present her own interpretation of the problem. Then these interpretations will be given as a dance. The dance is one of experimental technique and different combinations, said Mrs. Salo.

Agas on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. the group will perform for the Oakdale School Parents-Teachers Association. Basic techniques on the floor, standing and moving will be featured.

Louise Lubkin and Dibba Butler will give a duet on bounce, sustained, and "fiddle-de-dee."

The whole group will present the revived western dance "Rodeo." Louise Lubkin will also dance a solo, "Ebb Tide."

Katie Boykin will present a South American primitive dance.

Members of the beginners modern dance class, Tyna Faulkenberry, Bettina Finckelstadt, Nona Cargen, Mary Ellen Montgomery, Elizabeth Proctor, and Carolyn Sonner, will present the dance "Hymn to The Sun God Apollo." This dance was a feature of the Latin Forum held on campus recently.

After the modern dance program Miss Julia Post, head of the Physical Education Department, will lead the entire audience in square dancing.

This same program was presented recently before the creative arts group of the Rock Hill Women's Club.

A combination of the above two programs will be given before the Euphan group of the Women's Club Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Betty Decker will be the accompanist for the three programs. The program production class of the Physical Education Department will be in charge of make-up and lights.

Mrs. Salo said the performing group is expected to give an open demonstration of techniques later in the semester.

Social Eyes

By HILDA MIXON
Society Editor

Inactivity or home accounts for the length of Social Eyes this week. It seems that Winthrop who did not go home for the weekend preferred to hang around campus and rest or sunbathe.

Few with time, money and initiative for visiting were Cappy Robinson in Burlington, Vermont; Floyd in Lake City, Betty Ann Jones in Olan, Patsy Box and Judith Blanchard in Saluda, and Velma Chang in Waterloo.

Spring brings sparklers to lucky Winthrop girls. Martha Reed is engaged to George Gaun of Citadel and Joan Johnson is wearing a sparkler from Roy Bryant of Daingerfield.

Engaged to be engaged is Mary Jo Warren who is pinned to Roger Hazy of Wofford.

And it's a change of name for Francis Hayes who recently became Mrs. John Wood. John is a student at Newberry College.

Viewing Hinton's Charleston this past weekend were Katie Mae Carroll and Marie Lee McCrackin.

Visiting here and there were Man Inabinet in Spartanburg, Mary Louise Bryan in Salisbury, N. C., Carol Joyce Edwards in Columbia and Peggy Koon in Camden.

Guests of Doris McNeelis in Columbia were Evelyn Horton, and Sally Sue Philpot.

Congrats go to WCA for the party held in Johnson Hall for the Wofford Glee Club and band Wednesday night. Also our heartfelt thanks for the excellent music provided by the Swanks. Need we say that a good time was had by all?

Attraction—Camden this weekend were Elynor Butler, Nancy Gooch, Betty Ann Harrison, Donna Johns and Bettina Finkenshtad.

Winthrop are anxiously awaiting the street dance tomorrow and are looking forward to dancing to the music of the Hearts. Our thanks go to the WRA for the planning going into this attraction.

Roddey Is Sponsor For Game Parties

As a special feature of their social program for the year, the recreation and social committees of Roddey Hall are sponsoring a series of informal game parties.

The aim of these parties is to afford relaxation and good fellowship for the residents in this dormitory. Groups attending are so divided as to bring about a number of girls from each hall. In these small groups it is possible for every person to participate in all of the activity.

On successive evenings for an hour before dormitory closing time, Pat Marbelen, WRA Recreation Committee Chairman, has led the groups in games and singing. She has been assisted by Cecil Foxworth, Dormitory Recreation Chairman. At each party for cream sandwiches were served by the social committee. "Archie Jean Harrelson is chair of this committee.

Students planning these parties have been advised by Mrs. Ethel L. Wenner, Residence Hall Counselor of Roddey Hall.

WCA Fetes Wofford Boys

The WCA sponsored a party in Johnson Hall to honor the Wofford boys for their performance in the Main Building Auditorium, Wednesday night.

The Aristocrats, a fifteen-piece dance band accompanied the Glee Club, and the "Tennessee Dewdrops" presented a hillbilly act during program intermission. The "Collegeites," with four voices and a guitar, played and sang original compositions by Doc Breedin of Bennettsville.

The party, held after the concert given by the Wofford boys, was a social hour to which all Winthrop students and Wofford boys were invited. Music was furnished by the Winthrop College Swank and refreshments were served.

Eleven-thirty permission was extended to all students who attended.
